SOLDIERS SHIFT; PEOPLE PREPARE FOR BIG MEETING

The Eddyville and Rockcastle Troops Relieved by Hartford and Leitchfield

Farmers Will Have Chance to Take Stand For Law.

MANY ARRESTS SO FAR MADE

Kuttawa, Ky., June 9. (Special.)—Activity in military circles and preparations for the farmers' mass meeting here Saturday are occupying public attention in Lyon and adjoining counties at present. Soldiers are being shifted about by companies. Company I, of Leitchfield, arrived here last evening en route to Rockcastle, to relieve the soldiers there; but the boat had gone to Eddyville. Major Bassett made arrangements for the Richardson to carry the men to their destination. Lieutenant Woodward with Company H, of Hartford, has gone to Eddyville to relieve the Bowling Green company under Lieutenant Denhart. The Bowling Green boys will go home for a month's well earned rest.

Plans are being completed for the farmers' meeting Saturday and it is reported that Capt. W. J. Stone will be one of the peace day orators. The call states that it is the purpose to define the true relations of the Farmers' Protective association and Farmers' union to law and order, and a division will be made to ascertain how many endorse the action of the county officials in fighting night riders. Those who vote to endorse them, will be asked to sign resolutions setting forth the sense of the meeting.

Some pessimists profess to believe that all the night riders will sign the resolutions, but others believe great moral support will be given the county authorities by the meeting. To counteract this, night rider sympathizers are circulating a petition, requesting the withdrawal of soldiers from Lyon county.

So far there have been 74 arrests in Lyon county for night riding and 18 in Crittenden county. Both counties are quiet now while the soldiers are here, as the night riders have great fear of going behind the bars, even though they believe their friends can prevent their conviction. The next term of court here will be in August.

STANDARD'S PLANS

The Standard Oil company, whose store house burned at Tenth and Monroe streets last week, is ready to replace the warehouse with a brick building. The manager, J. W. Tyler, said the ground had been cleared off, and the company was waiting on the city to see if the ordinance passed limiting the number of gallons of oil that may be stored in the city limits. Today Captain Tyler finished computing the loss by the fire and he found that the company lost 3,700 gallons of fine engine and cylinder oil. The loss in dollars and cents has not been computed.

Interurban Contracts Are Let to Build Line From Paducah to Cairo and Equip it With Rolling Stock

Directors Remain in Session All Night Going Over Bids—Work of Grading Will Start Promptly.

After several days' consultation the contracts for the grading, bridges and for the equipment of the interurban railroad from Paducah to Cairo have been let. Everything is practically ready and the work of grading will begin next week, and possibly some of the contractors' implements will be shipped here this week. The grading contract went to Simms Brothers, of Thebes, Ill., for $70,113, the lowest bid. For the construction of the eighteen bridges Forbush & Stetler, of Benton, Ill., secured the contract. The General Electric company, of New York, will furnish the cars and equipment, as their bid was $48,750.

The contracts were signed by J. J. Freundlich, general manager of the Kentucky and Ohio River Improvement Railroad company, and the work was not finished until early this morning. Work on the road has been under way for three years, and the news that the contracts have been let will be received with pleasure, as it will mean the opening up of a large area of the finest farming land in western Kentucky. With the exception of $100,000 the Royal Investment company, of Minneapolis, Minn., has financed the road, and the company's interest has been looked after by Judge W. H. Place, who is in the city.

The Route.

The interurban road will be 38 1/2 miles long, and will extend to East Cairo, and the passengers will be transported to Cairo by a ferry. Mr. J. H. Jolliffe, of Indianapolis, formerly engineer for the Seymour-Indianapolis railroad, will be the chief engineer, and will arrive in the city this week to have personal charge of the construction. All of the right-of-way, including entrance to Paducah and Cairo, has been secured by the company with the exception of four little strips. Suits will be filed probably this week to condemn the land.

Simms Brothers have just completed the Cairo-Thebes line, and their outfit will consist of 100 teams and a steam shovel. At present their contracts are finished and they will be able to rush the work. Among the 18 bridges there is one 1,700 feet long. The contract for the equipment calls for six motor cars 60 feet long, two express cars 60 feet long, and one electric engine to pull freight cars. The contract for the ties has not been let, although the

LAPORTE, IND., YOUTH COMES TO WED MAYFIELD GIRL—FINDS HER MARRIED

Fellow Townsman of Mrs. Belle Guinness Joins Army Instead

Love that has even a remote connection with Laporte, Ind., the scene of the Guinness murders, seems to be fated for one kind of disappointment or another, judging from the ending of a love affair of Ira Belden, of Laporte, who enlisted in the United States army here today.

How he came to enlist in the army in Paducah, hundreds of miles away from his home, is a romance that involves a Mayfield girl and around the whole affair is an atmosphere of mystery, though only the tragedy of blasted hopes marks this romance, without the awful sequel of death, which closed the love dealings of Mrs. Guinness, with her unfortunate victims.

Ira Belden, a young man about 24 years old, handsome and a good conversationalist, announced to Sgt. Blake this morning that he was going into the army to study civil engineering, but from the tale he told of a disappointed wooing, it was more generally thought that he is seeking a refuge from his love troubles. He was in Laporte, Ind., throughout the excitement from the Guinness murder.

HOLLAN'S INDIANS WILL PLAY MURRAY THIS WEEK.

Hollan's Indians have secured a game with the Murray baseball team this week. The game will be played at Murray Wednesday or Thursday. It is probable that Hart will do the twirling stunt, and Runyan will be held for Sunday's game. The Indians believe they can bag Murray's scalp.

CONFEDERATES IN BIRMINGHAM FOR ANNUAL REUNION

Opens This Morning With Services in Great Hall With Immense Throng

Program For Three Big Days of Celebration.

ORATIONS THIS AFTERNOON

Birmingham, Ala., June 9.—The Confederate reunion opened here this morning with an immense crowd present and the city gaily decorated in honor of the occasion.

The formal opening took place at 9 o'clock this morning in the Hippodrome, a large and commodious building situated almost in the heart of Birmingham and of easy access to the hotels. The auditorium accommodates over 3,000 people and is remarkable for its excellent properties.

General George P. Harrison, commander of the Alabama division, called the gathering to order, and the invocation was offered by the Rev. Dr. J. William Jones, of Richmond, Va. Following this, General Harrison delivered his opening address. The official greetings were extended to the visitors by Governor Comer, in behalf of the state of Alabama; Mayor George B. Ward, speaking for the city of Birmingham; Brig. Gen. J. W. Bush, on behalf of the Alabama veterans; Comrade R. N. Rhodes for the Sons of Veterans, and Mrs. Charles G. Browns for the Alabama division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

This afternoon Col. E. L. Russell, of Mobile, delivered the reunion oration, and Judge A. O. Wright, of Jacksonville, Fla., will deliver his address on "The Confederate Navy."

Tonight Governor and Mrs. Comer will give a reception to the veterans and there will be fireworks at the fair grounds.

Wednesday morning the Battle Abbey committee will report and the place of the next reunion will be decided upon. At noon the annual memorial exercises will be held. Wednesday afternoon will come the reports of other committees and the election of officers. The floral parade under the auspices of the Sons of Veterans will be given Wednesday afternoon.

The grand parade of veterans will take place Thursday morning. General Harrison, commander of the Alabama division, will be chief marshal of the parade. The route will not be long, because everything is being done with consideration for the advancing years of the veterans.

There will be no end to the social entertainment provided for the visitors. The chief feature of the entertainment program, of course, will be the big ball under the auspices of the sons, in honor of the veterans, Sons of Veterans and sponsors and maids of honor. The ball will be given in the big Hippodrome.

Regimental reunions are held daily in Capital park, its six acres of beautiful lawn making it an ideal place for such occasions. The park is only five blocks from the business center of the city and seven blocks from the Hippodrome, where the sessions of the reunion are held.

Compromise by Which Contesting Factions Are Both Seated is Not Pleasing to Former Gov. Warmouth

Lively Times in Republican National Committee Meeting When Louisiana Case is Called.

Chicago, June 9.—The Republican national committee decided to seat both the Louisiana delegations, giving each man a half vote. The vote to name a committee of three to reorganize the state, former Governor Warmouth, representing the "Lily Whites," opposed the compromise.

The compromise threatens to cause trouble. Warmouth will not accept and says the Taft delegation won't take the seats under a compromise. He will carry the matter to the credentials committee and if beaten there to the floor of the convention. Warmouth insists a compromise means anarchy in the party. Louisiana Republicans won't accept the result.

The compromise brought the first vote in the national committee. A motion to seat the Warmouth delegation was voted down, 30 to 20, before a compromise was unanimously adopted. Even Hitchcock was unable to placate Warmouth. The committee adopted a resolution, requiring the incoming committee to appoint Pearl Wright, of Louisiana, national committeeman. Mississippi contests were then considered.

Taft delegates at large from Mississippi were seated.

Cannon arrived at his headquarters the first candidate on the ground. He conferred with the anti's. His friends announced that he is in the fight to stay.

President Remains Aloof.

Washington, June 9.—The president will not keep in close touch with the Chicago convention. There will be no telegraphic "loops" or long dis-tales.

Lorado Taft, the eminent Chicago sculptor, is now at work on the D. A. R. fountain figure, in the face of heavy work on other works of art, he has contracted for before agreeing to execute this subject. However, it will be next fall before he can complete the figure of the seated Indian, which will be 13 feet high. Dr. Della Caldwell closed the contract with Mr. Taft last week in Chicago for the Daughters of the American Revolution. Since the death of Augustus St. Gaudens, Mr. Taft has taken the position of America's foremost sculptors and it is an honor that comes to few cities of this size, to have his name on any work of art.

CONFERENCE AT GENERAL OFFICE TO SETTLE STRIKE

Atlanta, Ga., June 9.—Assistant Grand Chief Burgess, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Assistant Grand Chief Clarke, of the Order of Railway Conductors after a conference with Assistant Grand Chief Val Fitzpatrick, of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, left for Nashville to hold a conference with J. W. Thomas, president of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad. They will meet President Thomas at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and an endeavor will be made to settle the strike on the Western and Atlantic and Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railway. Chairman McLendon, of the state railroad commission, said that he would appoint a hearing on the question at issue for Wednesday morning.

Men Refuse to Go Out.

Although ordered to strike by the officers of their union the trainmen running out of Paducah on the N., C. & St. L. are still at work and, according to expressions of some of the men today, they will not strike unless there is a change in the management of the strike.

WOMEN OF BREATHITT

Jackson, Ky., June 9.—(Special.)—Mrs. Thomas Murrill shot and killed Mrs. Mary Terry at the latter's home, at Jett creek, this county, as the result of finding her husband at Mrs. Terry's house.

LEE'S SUCCESSOR

Washington, June 9.—The president today appointed Capt. Lewis Guion, of the Twenty-sixth Louisiana Infantry, a member of the Vicksburg national park commission to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Gen. Stephen D. Lee.

GRANDFATHER IS AFTER YOUNGSTER ALREADY IN HOME

R. J. White of Carrsville and D. N. Barnett Go to Law Over Possession.

White Had Just Learned of Death of the Mother.

JAMES WHITE IN CONTROVERSY

Over the possession of James White, nearly four years old, there promises to be a warm fight made by R. J. White, of Carrsville, grandfather of the child, and D. N. Barnett, of Lone Oak, with whom the child has lived since the death of its mother. The child was brought to the city this afternoon, and in Magistrate C. W. Emery's court he was given to Mr. Barnett.

R. J. White lives at Carrsville. He says his son, James White, was married and moved to Missouri. The child, James, was born, and four years ago his father was drowned in a creek in Missouri. The mother, with the child, came to Paducah, where they were found ill last year. She and her son were taken care of at the poor farm, but just before Christmas the mother died. Mr. Barnett is a prosperous farmer of Lone Oak and he made a request for the boy. He was given the child and the child has had a good home.

About a month ago R. J. White learned that the mother was dead, and he began his search for his grand son. Metropolis was visited, but he got a tip that the boy was in Paducah. After a ceaseless search he was located at the home of Mr. Barnett. Friday he visited the home, and recognized his grandson. Mrs. Barnett was willing to let White have the boy, but Mr. Barnett was not at home Friday. Yesterday White made several trips to Lone Oak and failed to see the child. He later met Barnett, who refused to give the boy up.

Constable A. C. Shelton went out to Lone Oak this morning without official papers, and had a talk with Mr. Barnett, who consented to come to the city this afternoon and hear the evidence. Barnett says if there is a law by which he may keep the lad he will do so. It is said that the fight will wax warm. The boy is a sturdy little chap, and the Barnetts have treated the child as their own.

No Word About Body.

Word has not yet been received from the brother of Mr. William Sayer, who died at the Riverside hospital last Saturday of consumption. Mr. Guy Nance has wired and written to Buffalo to where the brother of William Sayer lives. The body of Mr. Sayer will be kept until word is received from his brother, who is supposed to live in Buffalo.

Presbyterian Sunday Schools.

The Sunday schools of the First Presbyterian church, and of Mizpah and Hebron missions will have a picnic June 17 at Almo park. They will meet at the N., C. & St. L. train early in the morning of that day.

MERCHANTS COMPLAIN

Merchants of the city are seeking some means of bringing in the trade from Illinois, which has been cut off since the Bettie Owen has been condemned and compelled to lie up, awaiting her turn to go on the ways. The Bettie's hull was condemned about two months ago and she cannot be used until new planks are put in her bottom. She is next in order, and she probably will be taken out next week.

PASSING DANGER LINE WITH FLOOD IN MISSISSIPPI

St. Louis, June 9.—The Mississippi measures 30 feet, 6 inches, a half foot above the danger point. Prediction is a rise of several feet higher. Low lands are flooded. Levees are broken at several points with thousands of dollars damage. A high flood is coming down the Missouri and keen apprehension is felt here.

Kansas City, June 9.—The flood situation is the most serious since 1903. Both the Kansas and Missouri rivers are above the danger mark. Low districts are flooded and people are moving out. A further rise is threatened. All bridges are in danger.

At Topeka.

Topeka, Kas., June 9.—The crest of the flood is believed to have been reached. The river measures 28 feet, and practically covers North Topeka, where 8,000 families were driven out. Boats rescued scores who remained in their homes. The water is five feet deep in the streets.

THE FAVORITE SON PRESIDENTIAL SERIES

Some Familiar Sketches By Washington Correspondent of the United Press.

Washington, June 9.—Barely over five feet in height, Philander Chase Knox, senator from Pennsylvania and former attorney general of the United States, is, practically speaking, the most diminutive candidate for the presidency that the country has ever seen. But short as he is in stature, he is long in intellect.

There are other superlative adjectives that might be applied. For instance, he is the richest of all the Republican candidates, the dullest, the most reserved and the sportiest. He owns some of the best blooded horses in America. He has earned the biggest fees for defending corporations, and he was the first attorney general to find and make use of an effective weapon to prosecute them. He is also the baldest of all the candidates, and the only one that is smooth shaven.

Knox likes the company of young men. At his house almost every evening there is a pinochle or billiard game in progress in which the senator and some youngsters of his acquaintance are the participants. When he finds a young man displaying marked ability in any line of work, he is very apt to extend a helping hand. It was thus that Milton D. Purdy, sometimes referred to as the "trust buster" of the administration, came into notice. Knox met him when he was in Minnesota in connection with the Northern securities case, when Purdy had just begun to climb the legal ladder. Knox was attracted to him and his work, and when the law was passed authorizing the department of justice to employ special assistant attorneys general, he sent for Purdy and gave him one of the jobs. That Purdy has made good is a tribute to Knox's discriminating judgment of men.

Knox is sensitive. Some years ago he entered at the New York horse show a pair of blooded horses that had pedigrees reaching back to the dark ages, and which to his mind, as an expert, was the finest matched team of trotting horses in America. The prizes, however, went to horses of New York's social favorites and Knox's pair received no mention. He has never exhibited there since.

Knox's Fate. He owes his prominence partly to the fact that he was once expelled from the West Virginia university for a boyish prank. One of the rules of the faculty was that no students should attend theatricals. One day a company playing "East Lynne" came along and Knox, together with about twenty fellow students, decided to see the performance. One of the professors, sent to take the names of the offenders, reported them, and all were sentenced to expulsion. Eighteen were reinstated on signing an agreement not to offend again, but Knox and one other left.

He then went to Mt. Union college, Alliance, Ohio, and it was there that he first met William McKinley, Jr. Undecided as to the profession he would adopt, it was entirely due to McKinley that he finally resolved to become a lawyer. But for that meeting, Knox might now be a bank cashier in a country town, like his father.

A close student, especially of cases in which he was interested, and with a fine capacity for resolving abstruse statements of the law into concise and lucid language understandable even by laymen, Knox succeeded in his profession from the start. In the earlier days of Andrew Carnegie he became the ironmaster's lawyer and received, it is said, an income of $50,000 a year from this source alone.

In the twenty years following his resignation in 1876 as assistant United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania, a place that he held for only one year, his personal retainers averaged $90,000 a year. These, with his interest in the other business of his firm, gave him an income of about $150,000 a year, and he came to be recognized as one of the most successful corporation lawyers in the country. Incidentally he became a stockholder in the U. S. Steel corporation, the Union Trust company, the Pittsburgh Bessemer and Lake Erie Railway company and other powerful corporations. His largest single fee was earned in a forty-five minute speech in opposition to an attempt to abrogate the charter and limit the franchises of the Indianapolis Street Car company. He received $125,000 for that piece of work. His associate, the late ex-President Benjamin Harrison, addressed the court for four hours and received only $50,000.

It is related of Knox's early career that when he had a particularly puzzling question to elucidate, he would sally forth with a law book under one arm and fishing tackle under the other and hie him to some favorite stream. When he returned in the evening he generally had a string of fish and the solution of his problem as well.

His Official Record. Perhaps because he knew from the inside how the federal laws were being violated, but more likely because he realized that the principal duty attached to his office was to prosecute such violations, Knox quickly became active in the enforcement of the Sherman anti-trust law, when Mc-

Kinley appointed him attorney general in 1901. He was firmly convinced that combinations that stifled competition and restrained interstate commerce were evil and, after long and laborious effort, he got together the necessary evidence and sued the Northern Securities company. He was upheld by the supreme court of the United States in his contention that this concern was an illegal combination.

He has consistently held that monopolies and combinations, particularly of railroads, tended surely towards government ownership of public utilities, and he set himself to combat that tendency by seeking to give the people relief under existing laws. He instituted proceedings against the Beef Trust, the Salt Trust, the Jacksonville Wholesale Grocers' association, the Cotton Traffic Pool, the Anthracite coal carrying roads, and many others, all involving alleged violations of the anti-trust and interstate commerce laws. It was on his recommendation that the law was passed permitting cases of general public importance to be expedited in the supreme court of the United States.

At His Ease. Knox owns three homes. One is a large and beautifully furnished stone house on Ellsworth avenue, Pittsburgh set in the midst of well kept lawns. His Washington residence is on K street, was the former home of George W. Childs and cost the senator $170,000. His country place is at Valley Forge, once part of the camping ground used by George Washington, and the headquarters of General Knox, the senator's illustrious revolutionary ancestor. Here he raises all kinds of fine stock.

As much of his time as possible, Knox spends in the open. He is fond of golf and plays a fair game. He likes to fish. But his chief delight in the way of sport is his horses. These he likes to drive himself, and other early risers may frequently see him speeding a pair of blooded roadsters through the crisp morning air along the picturesque roads of Rock Creek park.

Without advertising the fact, Knox is a man of generous impulses. Following the great blizzard of 1896 in Western Pennsylvania, he was called upon by a representative of a charity organization for a contribution of coal and food. Knox handed her a check the size of which led the startled woman to inquire: "How do you wish this money to be applied, Mr. Knox?" "As your organization thinks best," was the reply. "There are worthy and unworthy poor, I know, but they are all cold and hungry."

KILLED BY BALL

LLOYD SHELTON, OF FANCY FARM, STRUCK IN CHEST.

Cassell Smith, of Graves County, Disappears and is Thought to Be Drowned.

Mayfield, Ky., June 9.—Sunday afternoon between 5 and 6 o'clock Lloyd Shelton, a young man about 18 years old, was killed at a ball game near Fancy Farm, by being hit in the chest by a baseball.

Young Shelton lived four miles west of Fancy Farm and drove to the game of baseball with two other young friends and had just gotten out of the buggy and was standing near the diamond when a swift ball, thrown by Harley Burkett, accidentally struck him in the breast and knocked him to the ground. Dr. Higdon, of Fancy Farm, was summoned at once, but before he reached the scene young Shelton was dead.

The young man lived about ten minutes after the ball struck him. A large crowd was present at the game and naturally the death caused much excitement.

Lloyd Shelton was a son of Gus Shelton and was a well known young man with many friends.

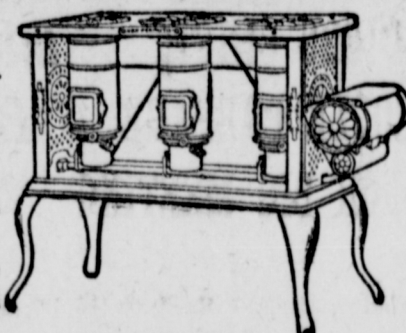

Man Missing, Bucket Found. Mayfield, Ky., June 9.—Cassell Smith, near Davis' store, on the east fork of Clark's river, mysteriously disappeared from his home last Wednesday evening, and has not since been seen or heard of.

He is a man of family and left his home with a tin bucket to go to a neighbor's house about a mile away. He had to cross a stream.

A search was instituted after he had been gone a sufficient length of time to have returned, but nothing could be found of him. Friday afternoon the tin bucket he had carried was found about a half mile down the stream, lodged against a drift. The finding of the tin bucket is the only thing that leads the suggestion that he was drowned while crossing the stream. The search will be continued with a hope of finding the body. The creek was very high at the time Smith crossed it, and his friends believed that he lost his balance while crossing on the foot log and was drowned before he could get out.

PREPARE BANQUET

FOR DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE MEN AT LEXINGTON.

City Will Be Host On Night Before the Convention is Called to Order.

Lexington, Ky., June 9.—All the members of the Democratic state central and executive committees are expected to arrive here by Wednesday evening, when a banquet will be given at the Phoenix hotel to the members of the two committees with the city of Lexington as host. A number of other guests will also be invited to attend the banquet.

The general committee which has charge of the arrangements for the convention is making every effort to prepare ample sleeping accommodations for the visitors to the convention. They were materially aided today by the notification received from both Hamilton and Campbell-Hagerman female colleges that the dormitories of both these institutions would be placed at the disposal of the committee, the students and faculty of both colleges having left for their vacation.

President James K. Patterson, of Kentucky State University, has informed the committee that he will notify them probably tomorrow whether the dormitories of the university can be made available for convention visitors.

"A DAUGHTER OF THE SOUTH" TONIGHT.

The Hutton-Bailey Stock company will positively open their engagement at Wallace Park Casino tonight by presenting the beautiful 5-act military drama, "A Daughter of the South." The scenes of the play are laid in Virginia. The action takes place during the Civil war, and tells an interesting story, picturing realistically and truthfully that never to be forgotten period of our country's history when brother fought against brother. All performances of the Hutton-Bailey company are guaranteed to be the best ever presented at Wallace park or admission money as well as car fare will be refunded.

Meanest Man Tells Son to Take Long Steps and Save His Shoe Leather.

Newark, N. J., June 9.—"You must not contract the extravagant habit of taking short steps, my son. See that you are a good, economical boy, and take the longest steps you can. Then you won't recklessly waste your shoe leather."

This was the amazing parental admonition given from three to twelve times a day to the young son of the champion of all the world's champion mean men—Henry Eckhard, formerly of this city who is now being sued for divorce.

Eckhard, whose present whereabouts are stated to be unknown by his wife, the complainant in the divorce suit had a love for economy which amounted to a passion, according to the facts appearing from the litigation.

Short Steps Reckless.

The thing which he held in particular horror was the taking of short steps. That, in Eckhard's view, was one of the deadliest of the many deadly sins of extravagance. "To take a short step," Eckhard used to say, "when you can take a long one, is the worst bit of reckless waste I know."

He used to expound this doctrine not only to his wife, but to his son. The boy was 6 years old. The youngster would look up at his father with much gravity, listen to the paternal orders and proceed nearly to do the "splits" in his endeavor to be a "good economical boy" in his father's eyes.

"Don't you see," Eckhard used to demand of his son and wife, during the day's daily exploitation of his theory, "that it is shockingly foolish to take a lot of short steps? You can take a long step just as well as a short one. Just figure out how much less your shoes will be hitting the pavement if you take a few long steps in the course of a block instead of a lot of short ones."

Big Saving in Sight.

"It's wearing out shoes without any reason. For the three of us you can see that in the course of a few years this item alone will amount up to a terrible lot of money. Take long steps—long, long ones. You're nothing more nor less than a spendthrift if you take short strides."

Mrs. Eckhard, who lives at 231 East Kinney street, this city, also states that her husband used to number the apples, eggs and potatoes so that he could keep track of them. He used to mark the sticks in packages of macaroni so that there would be no extravagance in their use.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED.

By the Use of the New Scalp Antiseptic.

It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root soon plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth and causes it to fade and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Herpicide, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides removing all impurities from the scalp. In addition it permits new life and vigor to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it. Sold by leading druggists. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00. Send 10c, in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. R. W. Walker Co., Special Agents.

OPTION TO EXPIRE

ON THE FIRST DAY OF NEXT MONTH.

The Illinois Central and Southern May Ask Tennessee Central to Extend Time.

Says the Nashville American: "Interest in the prospective changes of ownership in railways of this section is centered in the action to be taken with reference to the expiration of the option held on the line of the Tennessee Central Railroad company by the Southern and Illinois Central. This option expires July 1. Under its provisions, the Southern operates the eastern end of the Tennessee Central line, while the western portion option will be extended or dropped on the Tennessee Central line bought at the expiration of the time the option calls for, it not yet being definitely known here. In the opinion of one prominent official of the Tennessee Central, the two systems will buy the line at the expiration of the option July 1.

"Rumors have been also in circulation to the effect that the Southern and Illinois Central Railway companies would ask for an extension of time in their option. While nothing authoritative can be gained, it is said in some quarters, that in case the time of the option be not extended, the Southern and Illinois Central will relinquish their lease on the Tennessee Central.

Eczema is Now Curable.

A St. Louis chemist, after many years of careful experimenting and investigation, has discovered a simple remedy that has cured hundreds of cases of eczema that had been pronounced incurable. This chemist believed that eczema and all itching skin diseases were of local origin and were caused by germs which attacked and fed on the skin. He began to search for a remedy that would destroy these germs, and found that by combining the active principles of certain well known vegetable drugs, and applying them locally, the first application stopped the itching and burning, and if used persistently would drive all germs and their poisons to the surface of the skin and destroy them, leaving a nice, clear, healthy skin. He gave this remarkable remedy the suggestive name of Zemo, and since its introduction to the public Zemo has proved a very popular remedy and is today recognized the most successful and meritorious remedy ever produced for the relief and cure of eczema and all diseases of the skin and scalp.

Mr. Will J. Gilbert, the druggist, endorses and recommends Zemo and says that he believes Zemo to be an honest medicine and will do all that is claimed for it.

992 at the Chicago convention, since the representation in both is based upon the representation of the various states in congress. The explanation is found in the fact that the Democrats allowed six delegates each to the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Porto Rico, to which the Republicans allowed only two delegates each, while the Republicans allowed two delegates to the Philippines, which will not be represented at all in the Democratic convention.—Kennebec Journal.

Daily Thought. "The lines of eternal grace in any character have to be cut with extremely sharp tools."

WOMAN IN CIVIC LIFE. We have thus far refrained from more than passing editorial comment on the recent convention of the state federation of women's clubs in this city, because—really—we didn't know what to say. If they had been men we could have found the most complimentary terms in which to pronounce the valedictory on the convention. For instance, that not a single delegate had drunk—too much, and their behavior was remarkably creditable; but unfortunately the ladies would not accept such a reference as at all complimentary, and so we regarded them in awed silence, and let them depart, while we pondered over what part they have assumed in the economy of the world.

They are taking up in a practical manner what men speak of in rhetorical terms when moved by great emotion. The women are interesting themselves in the delicate details of the civic administration of affairs and making perfect the rough hewn course of masculine civilization; the esthetic things of life, the blending of social conditions, the brightening and blessing of human existence, and the forcing on men in authority the responsibility for conditions that are intolerable, when observed. These in general are things, we think we see the women of Kentucky attending to, and they will uplift this old commonwealth, too—yes, and uplift the men along with the other things. Now, there is another side to the situation. Coincidentally with this feminine venture into civic affairs, we find the men taking hold of matters religious, and the great laymen's movement, the history of which can be counted in months, is raising millions of dollars and hundreds of missionaries for the evangelization of the whole world in a generation. The state needed woman's sympathetic attention to neglected details; the church needed the vigorous enthusiasm and the aggressive confidence of man. And side by side man and woman, each supplementing the other's achievements, are to work for the betterment of the world.

FALSE LEADERS IN ISRAEL. When The Sun said yesterday: "There are others who also are talking of harmony and reorganization, but who see in the impending destruction of the Beckham machine an opportunity to seize control of the organized party themselves, knowing that the rank and file, disgusted with the old regime, will be ready to follow any leadership that promises a successful revolution," we had read the signs aright. We heard the trumpet call of Watterson, "To your tents, O Israel!" and knew the scripture quoting old rascal had the Louisville ring waiting in ambush to destroy the temperance cranks whenever they should desert Beckham's camp. Now, if we may humbly imitate so great an one, and quote the same authority, we seem to see the local organ of the Democratic philharmonic society pointing to a certain golden calf and shouting to the frenzied hosts of Kentucky: "These be thy Gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt!" To be exact and commonplace it said: "Thus does Georgia speak. It has had prohibition five months, and the Democracy of the state at the first opportunity repudiates the governor who approved the prohibition bill. It has given him notice that he is to be retired at the end of his term, although he is only half through it." His defeat should stand as an example for good to the Democratic party as a whole, and in the numerous conventions to be held throughout this and other states during the next few weeks this result should serve to direct those in charge along lines of conservative reason, causing them to erect political structures staunch in their adherence to the old-time doctrines. Eliminate local issues and radical ideas born of fanatical fancy, and as a result the party structure will be stronger, resting as it should upon a foundation broad in its adherence to the old-time doctrines, as desirable today as they were in those first days of the party's history."

It may be that "The theory of whisky as an antidote for rattlesnake poison has long since been abandoned by reputable physicians," but the custom of carrying a jug of antidote along on a fishing excursion has never been abandoned, and that is more to the point.

Governor Wilson keeps in his "scrap book" articles of war in the Black Patch.

PROMINENT MEN IMPLICATED IN MARSHALL RAID

Interest in the white cap or night rider prosecutions is said to be intense in Marshall county and since the publication in yesterday's Sun of the fact that one of the men said to have been implicated in the Birmingham raid had made a confession and gave the authorities the names of all the parties in the mob, there is a great deal of speculation as to who the man is; for while the fact that a confession has been made is not denied by the authorities, the name of the witness will not be known until the trials begin tomorrow.

It has also become known that the grand jury, which was empaneled yesterday, will make further investigations into the Birmingham matter and more indictments likely will be returned before the week is gone, and it is freely predicted that men of prominence, who have never before been connected with the affair at Birmingham, will be indicted. There is proof enough against them to warrant a conviction.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION TO MEET

Members of Clubs Have Many Topics to Discuss in Boston.

Boston, June 9.—The ninth biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's clubs will convene in this city June 22 and will be in session until July 1. Several hundred delegates will attend. The president of the general federation, Mrs. Sarah S. Platt Decker, of Denver, will preside. The topics to be discussed include civil service, civic art, education, literature, forestry, library extension, household economy, industrial conditions, child labor and fire food. Saturday evening, June 27, Senator Albert J. Beveridge will address the clubwomen on "Child Labor." Other speakers who will attend the convention are Professor Charles Zuehlke, of the University of Chicago, and Commissioner of Labor Charles P. Neill.

CASTRO TAKES FLING AT U. S.

Official Organ Brands Uncle Sam "Cain of America."

Caracas, May 29, via Willemstad, June 9.—El Constitucional, the official organ of President Castro, publishes a New York letter stating that it is rumored that the United States will secretly support Colombia in case of war with Venezuela. In an editorial article El Constitucional discredits the report, but says that President Castro will fulfill his duty, whatever that may be. The paper also publishes a partisan speech, in which the United States is called "the Cain of America, which stimulates fraternal cordiality in order to disguise brutal instincts."

THE VANISHING FLEETS

By ROY NORTON

Still suspecting something unusual in such a singular visit and admission at this hour of the morning, the guards escorted him to the council room and waited at attention in the doorway when his presence was announced. To their surprise the emperor smiled as if in recognition, bade his visitor "Good evening" in English, and dismissed the soldiers. Reassured by this action, the men had resumed their accustomed posts, thinking no more of the matter, and regarding it simply as one of the unusual appointments which are made in such troublous times.

In less than an hour, during all of which time the guard at the door had heard voices in seeming conversation participated in by the three persons with the room, he heard the emperor and the chancellor burst into most unusual and hearty laughter. A few minutes later he was surprised when the emperor came from the room and went to his dressing chamber, from which he emerged in the plainest of civilian clothing, after which he was escorted to his quarters. His imperial majesty cautioned the guard to let no one know that he was leaving or of the nocturnal visitor, and, still accompanied by the unknown man and the chancellor, passed from the palace. From this on he was traced to the very carriage door, which was closed behind the party by another attendant. The vehicle drove away in the night, the glow of the men's cigars being the last thing noticed by the man who escorted them, thus showing that all were on very friendly and intimate terms.

The conveyance itself was traced for several miles into the country, through the fact of its having passed several other rigs. There was nothing in its appearance to distinguish it from any other, and only the fact that the streets at that time of night were deserted enabled the officers to gather any idea of its direction. Others had been observed; but all were identified and accounted for, and it was by a process of elimination only that the one carrying the kaiser and his companions was tracked. The return journey of the vehicle, if such there had been, was not noticed, and therefore led to the theory that some where within the empire the kaiser and chancellor were being held prisoners.

The puzzling feature of the occurrence was that the emperor must have been acquainted and even on terms of friendship with the man who decoyed him away. No anarchist could be deduced from the situation, because with the careful search that had been made it was certain that there could have been no assassination unless a most remarkable concealment had been made of all evidences of the crime. Nor was it even tenable that the party had crossed the border line, because in a condition of threatened war all travelers were being closely watched.

Over every foot of the empire and into the most inaccessible portions, search was being made for the place where the nation's ruler and the chancellor might be held; but so far there had been nothing whatever that threw even the faintest ray of light on their whereabouts. The attempts of the secret service men and members of his majesty's family to keep his disappearance a secret failed, and indeed was unnecessary, for the people themselves had to be enlisted in a quest involving the whole country. It was at this juncture that a Roman horse trader, scenting a reward, offered his services and a suggestion to the police which was promptly acted upon. He described having met the carriage which was supposed to have taken away the emperor, and, following the instincts of the horse man, he scrutinized the animals more closely than the conveyance. He said he was walking round a turn in the road, and was almost run over before he had time to gain a free way.

One of the horses almost brushed him in passing, and he noticed not only a singularity of gait, but a peculiar white mark on the animal's flank.

The secret service men had already become convinced that the team belonged within the city, and so, as a forlorn hope rather than in the belief that any clue would be gained, they employed the gypsy, giving him license to adopt whatever means seemed the most likely to discover and identify the horse. With Roman cunning, he immediately secured a seat facing one of the most fashionable parkway drives, where he remained for hour after hour, apparently occupied in smoking a short black pipe, and presenting no marked difference in appearance from that of a hundred other loungers.

It was on the second day of the trader's watch that he jumped to his feet and excitedly ran after a passing turnout, until he could attract the attention of a mounted officer, who had been posted on the driveway for the purpose of assisting him in case his quest should develop anything worth following. The man pointed to the carriage ahead, and in broken German asserted his conviction that it was the one which had been used in the abduction. The officer, after giving him hasty instructions to report to headquarters, galloped down the boulevard in pursuit.

Much excitement was caused by the gypsy's story, and a group of the most prominent officials awaited the return of the mounted officer. One hour passed, and still another, before he appeared, and suspense by this time was at high pitch. They began to look at the horse trader with considerable suspicion, fearing a canard, and were almost on the point of sending others to search for the missing officer, when the latter appeared, clanking his spurs across the tiled floor of the entryway. He looked sheepishly about him before saying anything, and then addressing the captain, said: "This man is either mistaken or else the affair promises to be more serious than we at first believed."

"Well," said his superior questioningly, "what about the carriage?"

The officer leaned over and spoke in a confidential tone. "The carriage was that of the American ambassador!"

The captain started back as if paralyzed. He imparted the news in an undertone to his comrades in the room and the excitement grew. They dared go no further in this quest without consulting those of higher authority, and gathered into a private chamber, taking the Roman with them, where they waited till they were joined by the supreme head of the secret service department. This latter, in person, questioned both the gypsy and the officer who had followed the carriage. All that could be elicited from the horse trader was that he had been accustomed to observe animals closely all his life, was positive that he could not be mistaken, and finally, in a fit of sudden wrath, he swore that he would stake his life on this having been the animal which passed him on the night of the kaiser's disappearance. He even went further and asserted that the harness of the horses was the same which he had seen on that occasion.

The mounted officer was equally certain that the turnout was that belonging to the embassy, because he had observed it before, and knew the ambassador by sight, and this was the reason why he had made no arrest. He said that he had been ordered to do so when he overtook the team, but, identifying its occupant, decided to run no risk of detaining so important a personage, and contented himself with following the carriage throughout its journey and till it was housed. He then dismounted, and by a pretext engaged one of the stablemen in conversation, learning thereby that the ambassador had no horses other than these two. He had not deemed it advisable to make any further inquiries for fear of arousing suspicion.

The head of the secret service department saw that he was facing a very grave responsibility. He sent messages calling together the most important men in the government, and within an hour the findings were laid before them. They found themselves in a singularly embarrassing predicament. To take any action which might offend the representative of a nation which was already engaged in triumphant war, and of which the whole world stood in terror and apprehension, was something to be avoided. Even to suggest to the ambassador of the United States that he was suspected of having abducted the kaiser, an act of lese majesty in itself, was something which might arouse the man to appeal to his home government and topple Germany itself into an imbroglio which could end only in defeat. The attitude of America, up to the moment when communication ceased, had been friendly. Therefore, there seemed no logical reason for her taking any such unheard of action as that of interference with the person of his majesty. The consensus of opinion was that the situation was too delicate to admit of any ordinary methods, and that there was only one thing to do—keep the embassy under constant surveillance until by secret service methods they might learn what if any connection the ambassador or those about him had with the disappearance.

The gypsy received the promised reward, and from that hour on the American embassy was unceasingly watched day and night from without and within.

It is finished off in quartered oak with every facility for the patrons of this company's service. Along with the improvements in the office have come additions to the mechanical equipment that gives this city direct service without any relays, to St. Louis, Memphis, Nashville, Louisville and other points, as well as prompt service to all the world. Manager S. G. Quisenberry states that the improvements cost over $500 and the local office now employs 12 persons.

The American District Telegraph company's service in this office is a highly interesting system for keeping tab on night watchmen at various paducah industrial plants. Paducah has more patrons of this system than Chattanooga or Knoxville, and some other cities twice its size a tribute to the city as a manufacturing point. Night watchmen must notify this office every hour in the night, and if they fail to do so, a man is sent out to investigate. Special fire alarms are provided, thus effectually safeguarding Paducah industries. Twenty-five electric clocks are also operated from this office in various public buildings, keeping standard Washington time. Upstairs, 500 gravity batteries supply the power for the office.

HEFLIN CASE POSTPONED.

Alabama Congressman Will Not Appear Before Next Fall.

Washington, June 9.—Representative J. Thomas Hefflin, of Alabama, whose arraignment on an indictment charging an assault with a dangerous weapon on Louis Lundy, a negro, aboard a street car on March 25 last, had been announced for tomorrow, will not appear in court then.

Mr. Hefflin proceeded to his home in Alabama immediately after the adjournment of congress. When he saw the published report of his arraignment he at once wired Attorney Henry E. Davis to know if his presence here would be required at this time.

After consulting with United States District Attorney Baker, Mr. Davis has advised Mr. Hefflin that the arraignment will be deferred until fall.

No More Married Couples Wanted.

New York, June 9.—James B. Roy, of G. B. Donnelly and M. B. Needham, a special committee appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate labor and commissary questions in the canal zone, returned here on the steamship Alliance today. The commission has prepared an extensive report of its work. Mr. Reynolds stated that he would recommend to the president that no more married couples be sent to Panama at this time as the quarters occupied by married couples were overcrowded.

WILL NOT INCREASE RATES. Railroad Presidents Decide Against Proposed General Advance.

Washington, June 9.—No general increase in freight rates is likely to be made by the railways of the country in the near future, if it be made at all.

At a recent meeting of presidents and operating officials held in New York it was the consensus of opinion that it would be undesirable, if not absolutely impracticable, to put into effect at this time any general increase of freight rates. Opinion at the meeting was divided, but the majority inclined to the view that it would be bad policy and bad business at this juncture to attempt an increase, in a time of depression, would tend rather to increase freight stagnation than to stimulate freight movement.

Most of the officials who attended the meeting indicated a belief that railway business conditions were improving, the freight and passenger revenues show a notable increase in the last month over the preceding three months and a general revival of business in all industrial branches was reported from every part of the country.

THREE MORE PRIZES

Three valuable prizes have been added to the already long list of valuable rewards for the hustling contestants in The Sun Popularity Contest.

They are two scholarships in the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., and one scholarship in the Paducah Central Business College.

These scholarships are transferrable and cover nine different courses: General Illustrating, Art, Book-keeping, Stenography and Civil Service.

These prizes will be awarded to the three persons securing either second, third or fourth highest number of votes in the three different districts.

This makes a grand total of eighteen prizes to be awarded in the great Sun Popularity Contest and represents an expenditure of $2,200 for prizes.

The contest has just begun; this is the third week; any new candidates desiring to enter the field may do so. Eighteen prizes; you certainly can win one.

Beautiful Church Wedding.

Paducah lost one of its most charming daughters in the marriage this afternoon at 2 o'clock of Miss Eudora Farley, daughter of Captain Ed Farley, state treasurer, to Mr. James Clements Langdon, of Rock Island, Ill., at St. Francis de Sales church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father H. W. Jansen, and was witnessed by a large crowd of friends and acquaintances.

Miss Mary Ellen Rogers, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, Mr. Joe Carnes, of Rock Island, a cousin of the groom, acted as best man, and the ushers were Messrs. Stoddard, Robertson, Jearman Wilkerson, Neal Dowd and Henry Ruoff. The church was decorated by Schmaus in green and white, the same color scheme being used in the dinner and reception at the bride's home, following the marriage ceremony.

Miss Farley entered with her father, Captain Ed Farley, who gave the bride away. Mr. Langdon entered with the best man, Mr. Carnes, and met the bride at the altar. Miss May Geagan played the thirteenth wedding march as a processional and the Lohengrin selection as a recessional. Miss Anna Hill sang "O Promise Me" just before the entrance of the bride. Miss Farley wore a gown of French lawn, with shoes and hat to match, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Rogers, the maid of honor, wore a gown of French batiste with shoes and hat to match.

From the church the bridal party was driven to the home of the bride's parents, 117 Farley Place, where dinner was served at 3 o'clock. The decorations at the table were in green and white with a profusion of cut flowers. Following the dinner, a reception to the bride's and groom's relatives was held, and the couple will leave at 6 o'clock this evening for Michigan points on an extended wedding trip. After October 1 they will be at home in St. Louis.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Dr. and Mrs. John A. Lotz, of St. Louis; Captain and Mrs. M. J. Langdon, of Rock Island, Ill.; Miss Mary Carnes, of Rock Island; Miss Julia Dickson, of St. Louis; and Misses Mary Lou and Edmonia Elder, of Quincy, Ill.

Eades-Puryear.

The wedding of Miss Edna Eades and Mr. Marshall Homes Puryear will be solemnized tomorrow at "Oak Hall," the country home of Miss Carrie Baker, by the Rev. Mildard A. Jenkins. After the ceremony the couple will leave for Nashville. They will make their home in this city at 920 Jefferson street.

U. D. C. This Afternoon.

Mrs. Joseph Gardner was the hostess at the Woman's club building this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the final meeting of the season of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Known in Paducah.

Miss Bessie Buford, of Ripley, Tenn., who has visited in Paducah, will be married June 17 at Ripley to Mr. William J. Johnson, of Mayfield. Miss Buford's old home was in Dyersburg, Tenn., and she frequently visits Misses Mary and Evelyn Walker, formerly of this city.

Pleasant Hay Ride.

A very pleasant evening was spent by a number of the younger crowd last night by a hay ride and afterward a party at the home of Miss Helen Van Meter, 505 Kentucky avenue. The hay ride was enjoyed by the party in covered wagons driven about the streets. At the home of Miss Van Meter punch and refreshments were served and the rest of the evening was spent in dancing. Those present were: Misses Hazelle Johnson, Hickman, Ky.; Anna Haysworth, Noblesville, Ind.; Lucile Oursler, Noblesville, Ind.; Mary Craig, Noblesville, Ind.; Sallie Smith, Lucette Soule, Julia Dabney, Margarette Carnegie, Sarah Corbett, Mary Cave, Mamie Baner, Lillian Abbott, Mary B. NEWS OF COURTS

In County Court.

Judge Lightfoot set aside the order compelling George Oehlschlaeger to pay taxes on $1,000 worth of personal property, consisting of stocks and bonds, as it developed that taxes were paid on the property, where the interests were located.

In Bankruptcy.

Attorneys will go to Louisville Friday to argue the exceptions filed to the sale of the Mergenthaler-Horton Basket factory. The exceptions are made by the real estate mortgage bondholders.

Magistrate's Court.

Ed Scott was fined $15 and costs by Magistrate Emery on the charge of malicious shooting, which was reduced to breach of peace. The warrants, charging him with carrying concealed a deadly weapon and threatening an officer, were dismissed. The warrants against Scott were procured by Martha Holman, who claimed he went to her home and raised a disturbance and shot at her. The evidence showed that Scott fired at the floor.

Magistrate Emery held Marshall Hill to answer on a charge of obtaining money by false pretenses.

In Police Court.

The docket in police court this morning was: Breach of ordinance—C. A. Torrence, continued until June 11. Breach of peace—Dave Kevill, colored, continued until June 19. Petit larceny—Shelley Ward, colored, continued until June 11.

LICENSE INSPECTOR IS ABOUT TO GET WARRANT.

There has been a lull in the payment of dog licenses this week and R. B. Hicks, the city license inspector, will swear out several hundred warrants this week against owners of dogs, who have failed to pay the license fee. The police took the names of all owners of dogs on their beats and their names have been checked over the names of the citizens who have purchased licenses. The dog catchers are still at work, and are thinning out the number of stray dogs.

JOHN MITCHELL FOR GOVERNOR

State Federation of Labor Likely to Launch Boom.

A. E. Stevenson Also and Other Candidates Likely to Be Cast in Shadow By These Two.

ALSCHULER MAY DECLINE TOO

Springfield, Ill., June 9.—There is a strong probability that John Mitchell, who achieved fame as the president of the United Mine Workers of America, will seek the Democratic nomination for governor of Illinois. The State Federation of Labor is to meet in Springfield within a few days, and there is a good deal of talk to the effect that the federation will place the distinguished labor leader in the field for the governorship. But his only hope of winning will be as the regular candidate of one of the great parties, and as he is a Democrat naturally he would be expected to try to secure the nomination at the hands of the Democratic party.

It is said that Mr. Mitchell personally is not much inclined to enter the contest under the prevailing conditions. If it were possible for the Democratic state convention to assemble and by a unanimous vote hand him the nomination for governor, no doubt he would be glad to take it. But under the new primary law no such a procedure is possible. In order to get an office under this law, the candidate must "go after it." If Samuel Alschuler becomes a candidate for governor, Mitchell probably will keep out.

There is a story from Bloomington to the effect that Adlai E. Stevenson, former vice president of the United States, would like to have the Democratic nomination for governor, but he is in much the same frame of mind as Mr. Mitchell. Col. Lewis

TOBACCO NEWS

John P. McGorty, Douglas Pattison and others who are candidates, avowed or only "tentative" are too much in earnest to take a back seat.

The rumor that the executive committee of the Planters' Protective association is about to reduce prices on the tobacco controlled is again revived by the calling of another special session of the executive committee at Guthrie tomorrow. The report got started just before the called meeting was held two weeks ago, but was promptly denied and those in position to know do not credit the rumor now. County Chairman Yarbrough, of McCracken county, was met here today by Chairman Swan, of Calloway county, and T. J. Myles, the official grader, of Mayfield, and other chairmen of the western district and all went on to Guthrie this afternoon.

Hopkinsville Tobacco.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 9.—Higher prices in the local tobacco market last week, this being taken as an indication that the better grades of the weed are coming more in demand. Sales at the Planters' Protective association amounted to 138 hogheads. While this is not up to some other weeks, the demand throughout the week was steady and of the healthy sort. Prices ranged from $7 to $10 for lugs, and $10 to $15 for leaf. Receipts are practically at an end as all the tobacco except in very few instances has been priced and delivered. Receipts last week were $5 hogheads.

At the Society of Equity warehouse the situation remains unchanged, with a steady demand and firm prices. Receipts here also are about at an end.

In the country the farmers are still having trouble with insects, grasshoppers and cut worms, the trouble in some localities being considerable, while in others it is practically absent. The first planting of the crop has been about complete, and the farmers are now busy going over the ground replanting where the plants, from any cause, have died. They report that many hills are found missing.

SCROFULA AN INHERITANCE OF DISEASE AND SUFFERING

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood, insuring health and strength, so the children of blood tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation to burden their existence with disease and suffering. Swollen glands about the neck, brittle bones, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, running sores and ulcers and general poor health, are the usual ways in which Scrofula is manifested. In some cases the blood is so filled with the scrofulous germs and tubercular matter that from birth life is made miserable with suffering. Others who inherit the disease succeed in holding the trouble in check during young, vigorous life, but when the system has begun to weaken and lose its natural vitality, and especially after a spell of sickness, the ravages of the disease will commence, and in a great many cases terminate in Consumption. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the entire circulation and drives out the scrofulous and tubercular deposits. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and it not only goes to the very bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease, but it supplies the weak, anaemic blood with the healthful properties it is in need of. S. S. S. is made entirely of healing, cleansing roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book on the blood and any medical advice about Scrofula given free of charge.

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery FOR COUGHS AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES. GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Women Inclined to Constipation

Women, owing to their peculiar functions, are prone to constipation, and many of their other ills are due to this congestion in the bowels which fills the blood with impure matter that permeates the entire system. In most cases foul breath, bad complexion, sick headache and such like ills are primarily caused by constipation or indigestion.

Women should be happy to learn of a remedy that cures constipation and indigestion, and that has such other ingredients as purify the blood and tone up all the digestive organs. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which can be bought at any drug store for 50 cents or $1 a bottle. Women have been curing themselves with this remedy for sixteen years, and the offer of years ago still stands to-day, that you buy Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin with the understanding that it will do as claimed or your money will be refunded.

This great herb laxative compound is especially suited to the delicate system of women because of its gentle but prompt action. Its pleasant taste and its freedom from griping. It does not build up and strengthen. It is a guaranteed permanent cure and should be as steady in your home as in that of thousands of others. Women use it themselves and give it to children in preference to any other laxative because it is guaranteed to do what is good and honest should do, and does it gently. Mrs. Tyler, of 838 McLaure Ave., St. Louis, Mo., is glad to say that it cured her constipation and stomach trouble and recommends it to American womanhood. She is but one of thousands who are loud in praise of it. You who have never used it should begin to-day. You will date your freedom from sickness to the day that you start the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Your druggist will sell you a bottle under our absolute guarantee.

FREE TEST These wishing to try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin before buying can have a free sample bottle sent to their home by enclosing the coupon. This offer is to prove that the remedy will do as we claim, and is only open to those who have never taken it. Send for it if you have any symptoms of stomach, liver or bowel disease. Send for it most effective laxative for children, women and old people. A guaranteed, permanent home cure. THE PUBLIC VERDICT: "Laxative So Good and Sure as DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN." This product sells purely genuine. No. 1, Washington, D. C.

Canada Sifts Her Immigrants.
If Canada selects all her citizens as cautiously as her immigration commissioners in London, England, is now doing, the northern empire may some day be what its natives often dream of—the Utopia of the Anglo-Saxon race. The Canadian government is not only opposing most effectively the influx of southern and eastern Europeans and Orientals. It is making the English themselves pass a stiff examination to prove their desirability. Fifth prospective immigrants whom the Salvation Army had arranged to send from London hoveled to Canadian farms have been held back until the Canadian authorities have investigated each member of the party. It will be interesting to see how long the government can continue this minute and scrupulous control in the face of a growing demand for unskilled labor.—New York Tribune.

When you need something to take take it promptly for the stomach, but take something you know is reliable—something like Kodol. For Dyspepsia and Indigestion. Kodol is pleasant to take; it is reliable and is guaranteed to give relief. It is sold by all druggists.

SUNBONNET BABIES

TEN DOLLAR PRIZE FOR BEST AD AND PICTURE.

Ask Rudy & Sons' Contest Department for Particulars of Contest.

Yesterday was the first day of an unique contest for the youngsters—boys or girls under fifteen years of age—and already the Sunbonnet Babies Contest Department at J. A. Rudy & Sons is being kept busy by inquiries from their young friends.

Briefly, the contest is to determine what boy or girl under fifteen years of age residing in Paducah or vicinity, can write the best Sunbonnet Baby ad and draw the accompanying picture, setting forth the superior advantages of Rudy's as a place to trade. The number of children who are already warm friends of this progressive store ought to develop any number of "star ad-writers" and at the same time make the contest a source of much pleasure, instruction and profit. The conditions of the contest were printed in yesterday's Sun and you had best study them and get in the game at once, though you have from now until July 1st in which to submit your ads, you can write as many as you like and all of them will be considered; so if you start now and are not satisfied with your first effort, you may try again and again.

The writer of the best ad will receive $10 in gold; the best best will receive $5 in gold; the third best $2.50 and the five following $1 each. The best three ads will be reproduced in the newspapers.

Look for the Sunbonnet Babies ads in The Sun every Monday and Thursday and see if you can improve on them. There's money in it.

Get the paper and study it and, if there is anything you don't understand about the contest, call or write the Manager of the Contest at Rudy & Sons, and he will tell you all about it.

For cuts, sprains, bruises, rheumatism and all other pains, use McLean's Volcanic Oil Lintment. First sold in 1852, still the same effective remedy in 1908. Good for man or beast. 25c, 50c, and $1.00.

A Reporter's Joke.

The page of Chinese characters printed by one of the Manhattan newspapers recalls one of the keenest practical jokes ever played in this country.

During a "reform" wave that swept over Philadelphia some time ago an almost unknown man named Samuel King was elected Mayor of the Quaker City. He was a harmless person and was made the butt of many jokes. The best of them in general estimation, was moved by Frank G. Connelley, a clever newspaper reporter, well known in this city. Connelley had been a circus man. He was the exploiter of the alleged "bleached" white elephant that Adam Forepaugh "starred" against Barnum's previously unequaled "sacred white elephant from Siam." Connelley was a nephew of "Jim" Connelley, of memory still blessed on Printing House Square.

During the King regime Frank found himself at work in Philadelphia. He was sent to "interview" the Mayor and was most cavalierly treated by the gentleman in office. Secretly and alone he thought out his revenge. His acquaintance in the Chinese section was not wide, but he had a "Chink" for laundryman and he went to him with an offer of a place on the police. The master of the sadiron didn't exactly grasp the vision of prosperity opening before him, but the resourceful Connelley hunted up an interpreter and obtained authority to apply for a position upon the force.

Connelley then went to a grocer friend and secured the wrapper from a case of Canton tea; thence he sought an art store and bought a camel's hair brush, a pot of India ink and some sheets of brown paper. With his tongue in a corner of his mouth, Connelley covered two sheets with columns of characters copied from the tea wrapper. Then he prepared an elaborate "translation," ascribed to "The Rev. Matthew Watson, late missionary to the Kwangtung province, China." As that is the region in which Canton is situated and the grocer had told him the

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the joints, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Will Young, of 6 Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says:

"I was troubled for a long time with dreadful backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

tea chest came from that city, Connelley desired to be accurate. "Accuracy, accuracy, accuracy," was his motto—as it is today in an office known to many people.

The "translation" made formal application for an appointment upon the police force and spoke of the applicant's qualifications in a manner that could not have been described as "bashful." Within an hour after the "application" had been mailed Connelley set out to interview all the leading merchants on Chestnut and Market streets. To his great surprise the majority of them favored the appointment of a Chinaman to keep a watchful eye over the district known as "Chinatown."

Connelley discovered that he had a "scoop" and sold it. The fussy Mayor swallowed the bait, but "turned down" the Chinaman's application in an elaborate letter. The people of the usually quiet town took sides.

Fear of the "yellow peril" hadn't then arisen and the sensation lasted for many days.

All attempts to get information from the laundryman failed. He was as cold as his sadirons on a Sunday.—Julius Chambers in Brooklyn Eagle.

An Out-of-Door Card Party.

A simple but unique morning card party may be given by the hostess who has a lawn or large porch on which to entertain her guests. Cover the tables with green cheese cloth in a pretty shade. For tally cards use leaves from the oak or maple tree, as these are good shape and do not wither easily. Gold paper stars or circles are used to keep score, and may be had at any stationer's. The prizes may be a dainty white fan with possibly a suggestion of green for first prize, and a huge palm leaf with a bow of green ribbon for the booby. The refreshments are sandwiches of lettuce, olives, nasturtium or any other delicate green filling, and feed tea served with lemon and long stalks of mint. After this, ices with mint cherries served in white paper cases, with little wire handles wrapped in green paper. On each handle fasten a white butterfly cut from paper and marked a little with water-color paint. Plain white and green iced cakes may be used, or a white cake with a touch of pistachio in the filling. Green and white peppermints may be served during the game or after the ices.—From Woman's Home Companion.

A Brave Girl of the Russian Revolution.

"In the mines of Akatui, in central Siberia, there is a beautiful girl of twenty years at 'hard labor,'" says Kellogg Durand, author of "The Red Reign," who has spent much time during the last year or two in Russia, and in the June Woman's Home Companion the author then proceeds to tell the marvelous pathetic story of Marie Spiridonova, who was condemned to die for a "political crime," but whose sentence was finally altered to twenty years hard labor in exile, owing to the popular clamor for the girl's life all over the world.

Commercial Club Appoints Committees and Maps Out Program for Convention in This City.

At the meeting of the Paducah Commercial club last night the first steps were taken toward making the coming K. T. M. convention in this city, July 9, 10 and 11, an all around success.

F. V. Bartlett, of Jackson, Tenn., secretary of the K. T. M., was present and gave the club some excellent information relative to the necessary preparations to be made.

A finance committee was appointed by the club, composed of some of Paducah's most substantial citizens and this committee will start at once on the work of raising the necessary $2,000 to make the convention a royal one.

The work of soliciting will begin at once and a liberal response is assured from every merchant and citizen.

Secretary Fowler is now in correspondence with three bands and one of the following will be secured to render music for the convention, assisted by Deal's band; Carbondale band, Gan's Military band, of Louisville, and the Jackson, Tenn., band.

Fully 3,000 visitors will be in Paducah during the three days of the convention and a splendid time is anticipated by all.

Special baseball games will be arranged at the park, the Matinee club will pull off a series of racing events and this with boat rides on the river special band concerts, automobile rides and daily meetings of the association, together with the parade on the first day, will fill the three days full of pleasure.

The following committees have been appointed by Mr. Fowler to arrange the details of the work in their various departments. The chairman alone have been selected and these in turn will select three additional men to assist them:

Finance committee—W. E. Covington, chairman; E. W. Baker, Louis Kulp, L. S. DuBois, J. A. Rudy, D. E. Winter, Abe Livingston, C. F. Riecke, W. C. Clark, Louis Rubie, Harry Hank.

A special committee has also been appointed composed of the following: Sol Dreyfuss, Sam Levy, L. C. Dalm.

Press committee—John J. Berry, chairman.

Arrangement and Program committee—S. A. Fowler, chairman.

Trades Display and Decorations—George H. Goodman, chairman.

Invitation committee—Lee Livingston, chairman.

Methodists Expect to Build Three New Churches Here.

The Methodist preachers met this morning at 10 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church, the Rev. J. W. Backard, presiding elder, in the chair. The following made their monthly reports: The Rev. T. J. Owen, of Reidland circuit; the Rev. H. B. Terry, of Third street; the Rev. G. W. Banks, of Trimble street; the Rev. G. T. Sullivan, of Broadway; the Rev. W. J. Naylor, of Paducah circuit; and Dr. J. W. Backard, presiding elder Paducah district.

These charges are making advancements in the temporal and spiritual welfare of their people. The foundations have been laid for new churches at Fountain avenue and Monroe street and Lonoke, with the good hope of getting into them this fall. A new tent will be ordered by the Rev. W. J. Naylor for his meeting the fourth Sunday in June at Tyler, where they also expect to build a new church. The meeting adjourned until September 8.

CAVALRYMAN RETURNS FROM THE PHILIPPINES.

Mr. George O. Rutter, of Hampton, returned home this morning after completing a three years' enlistment in the cavalry in the Philippine service. Mr. Rutter was in Troop E of the Fourth cavalry, and enlisted while south. He received his honorable discharge while stationed at Fort Snelling, Minn.

IN ADMIRALTY.

Frank Rounds vs. Steamboat J. S., etc., in admiralty.

Whereas, a libel was filed in the district court of the United States, for the Western District of Kentucky at Paducah, on the 3rd day of June, 1908, by Frank Rounds vs.

Steamboat J. S., etc., her engines, tackle, apparel, furniture, etc., and owners alleging in substance that said steamer was indebted to him in the sum of two hundred dollars, for damages done his gasoline boat "Messenger," by smashing same up, that said damages had never been paid, and prays process against said steamboat J. S., etc., and that the same may be condemned and sold to pay said claim with cost and expenses.

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court to me directed, I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said steamer J. S., etc., or in any way interested therein, that they be and appear before the District Court of the United States in the city of Paducah, Ky., on or before the 3rd day of August, 1908, at 10 o'clock a. m. of that day then and there to interpose their claims and to make their allegations in their behalf.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

Western District of Kentucky, at Paducah.

Whereas, an information has been filed in the District Court of the United States for the Western District of Kentucky, at Paducah, on the 22nd day of May, 1908, by George DuRelle, Esq., attorney for the United States, against ten barrels, seventy-five half barrels and fifty kegs of cider alleging in substance that said articles were forfeited to the United States, as being misbranded within the meaning of the Food and Drugs act of congress of the United States approved June 30th, 1906, and praying process against the same, and that same may be condemned as forfeited as aforesaid, same having been seized by the Marshal under due process of law.

Now, therefore, in pursuance to the motion under seal of said court to me directed and delivered I do hereby give public notice to all persons claiming said articles or in any manner interested therein, that they may be and appear before the said court, to be held in the city of Paducah in and for said District, on the 16th day of November, 1908, then and there to interpose their claims, and to make their allegations in that behalf.

GEORGE W. LONG, U. S. M.

Twenty-five have scores above the 10,000 mark; seventeen are over 20,000, twelve have more than 30,000 and six have passed the 40,000 mark, two of them recording near half a century of thousands in the figures that count for lots and diamond rings, pianos, buggies and a host of other good things.

Such, in brief, is the present status of The Paducah Sun's Great Popularity Contest.

But you cannot tell by the scores who are really in the lead. The score columns tell just what the contestants want to have told and nothing more. The figures furnish a means of advertising the fact that one is in the game and should not be used to tell competitors where one stands in the running.

Let your score talk to your friends, not to your enemies.

A number of people who do not stand at all among the leaders are really very active in the contest. They choose not to have it generally known. That's their way of fighting and they have a perfect right to conduct their campaign according to their own ideas. If they like the gum shoe system, all right.

Miss Hodge Still Leads.

Miss Elsie Hodge, of District 1, has been at the head of District 1 and above the leaders of both the other districts for so long that it seems to have become a habit. The fact is that a great many people are voting the limit every day, but Miss Hodge started to vote the limit before any one thought about doing so.

Miss Ella Hill is less than 400 behind the leader and has been at that place every day except one when the composing department of The Sun recorded only a part of Miss Hodge's limit vote. The exciting race between the two top-notchers is attracting a great deal of attention about town. Everybody wonders how it will end and whether either one or both will be there at the final count. Time will tell.

District 2 does not have the same high appearance that characterizes the scores of District 1, but rumor has it that there are some real live ones in the territory south of Broadway, that have not yet made a showing in the columns of the paper.

Miss Mern Nichols and Mr. A. W. Stewman are running almost as close a race as the one in the first district and are not far behind. Then there comes something of a drop with Mr. Charles Denker, the only other person above the 20,000 mark, although Mrs. E. E. Buck voted the limit yesterday and is almost out of the tens of thousands.

District 3 has a four-cornered fight at the top instead of a dual as obtains in each of the other districts. Miss Carrie Chiles, of Metropolis, has a score nearly equal to that of the leaders of the contest and is closely followed by Miss Lura Street, of Kevit, Ky., Mr. Arthur Switzer, of the local R. F. D., and Miss Vera Dodson, of LaCenter, Ky.

So many others of the out-of-town contestants are right up in a bunch just below those named that it is certain there will be a very hot fight among them before the contest is over and some astonishing results in the way of high scores obtained, which will probably make the Paducah contestants sit up and pay very particular attention.

Among the late comers on District 3, who have made very promising starts and would do better if it were not for the limit are: Miss Mabel Mayers, of Brookport, Ill.; Miss Lena Madden, of Wingo, Ky., and Miss Myra Oliver, of Fulton, Ky.

Chief Starts the Game.

Chief James Wood, of the fire department, has had a low score up to today, but the limit vote gives a prophecy of something vigorous to come from that direction. The chief now stands ninth in District 1, but a continuation of the tactics started yesterday will soon land him among the leaders. A week's handicap does not matter much when one is conducting a vigorous campaign.

Who Are Eligible?

Any white person, man or woman, of good character, residing in the territory covered by The Sun may become a candidate for the honors and the prizes in The Paducah Sun's Greatest Popularity Contest.

Duration—Awards.

The contest starts with today's announcement and will continue till July 4, at 9 p. m., at which time a committee of well-known and trustworthy citizens will be chosen to determine who are entitled to the prizes.

Districts.

The territory covered by The Sun has been divided for the purposes of this contest into three districts, as follows:

District 1 comprises all of the city of Paducah north of Broadway, including the north side of Broadway.

District 2 comprises all of the city of Paducah south of Broadway, including the south side of Broadway.

District 3 comprises all of the territory served by The Sun outside the limits of the city of Paducah.

More Than $2,000 in Prizes.

Following is a description of the magnificent list of prizes offered for the winners in this contest together with the arrangement governing their distribution.

The candidate securing the highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The First Grand Prize, a $700 double building lot in Gregory Heights, Paducah's prettiest suburb.

The candidate securing the second highest number of votes, regardless of district, will be given The Second Grand Prize, a $400.00 two-carat, blue-white diamond, on display at Jo Wolf's jewelry store, 327 Broadway.

After the judges of the finish of the contest have awarded the Grand Prizes, the names of the two winners will be stricken from the list of contestants and the nine district prizes will be awarded as follows:

The three persons who lead their respective districts will be awarded a $300 piano, on display at W. T. Miller & Bros., 520 Broadway, a $150 suit of furniture, displayed at Garner Bros., 207-213 South Third, a $100 buggy and harness, displayed at Powell-Rogers, 129-131 North Third. The above three prizes will be given to the three district leaders in the order of the number of votes credited to them.

The three persons who receive the second highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes in their order of rank—a $65 watch on display at Pollock's, 333 Broadway, a $50 lady's or man's watch at Nagel and Meyer's, corner Third and Broadway, a $50 Miller range, displayed at Hank Bros., 212 Broadway—rules should necessity demand.

Contestants may secure subscriptions anywhere they wish. For instance a candidate in District 3 is entitled to turn in subscriptions from District 2 or District 1, and vice versa.

New subscribers are those who were not taking The Sun May 23, the date of the start of the contest. Transfer from one member of a family to way.

The three persons receiving the third highest number of votes in their respective districts will be awarded the following prizes, a $37.50 refrigerator, displayed at Henneberger's, 422 Broadway, a $25 chair or other furniture from Rhodes-Burford's, 112-116 North Fourth, a $25 lady's or man's watch on display at J. L. Wanner's, 311 Broadway.

In addition the management of The Sun will spend $100 in special prizes to be distributed to busy candidates during the progress of the contest, making a grand total of more than $2,000 in prizes, to be distributed gratis.

Table of Values.

Besides the coupons which are printed daily in The Sun and which are good for the number of votes printed on them if voted before the time limit stated, contestants may secure subscription votes according to the following schedule:

THE TRUTH ABOUT KIDNEY TROUBLE (Uremic Headaches)

There is a class of headaches that are very persistent and very painful, that are to be suspected where there appears to be no cause in which there are decreased or scanty eliminations.

These are usually ugly symptoms and mean that the kidneys are not eliminating the toxins or poisons, and that they are retained in the circulation.

It is in such cases that apoplectic symptoms or drowsiness and convulsions follow.

The central difficulty is again inflammation of the kidneys that has to an extent closed the kidney functions, and it is apparent that a reduction of the inflammation will reopen the tubules with gradual restoration.

As the direct effect of Fulton's Renal Compound is to abate inflammation in the kidney tissues, it is seen why it is the first thing to be effective in these cases and why failure has been the rule under the old indirect treatment.

The symptoms under the above heading are urgent and permit of no delay, for before this Compound was discovered they were nearly always fatal and generally in a few months.

(In such cases hot baths will aid the Renal Compound, as sweating helps to relieve the uremic condition.)

LAPORTE YOUTH COMES TO WED

ders and knows all the principal actors in that tragedy intimately. Belden does not believe that Mrs. Gunnes is dead.

As told by himself, the train of circumstances that brought him to Paducah are these: A Boston publication agreed to furnish each new subscriber with two names of unmarried women of means, and Belden subscribed. Out of the two names he received, he chose that of a Kentucky girl, who was reputed to be worth $40,000, and who desired a husband capable of managing her estate. Her address was the Southern hotel, Mayfield, now the Hall house.

For some months Belden and the young Mayfield woman corresponded and he received a picture of her, which was that of a brunette beauty. He did not disclose any of the letters, but they were sufficiently ardent to cause him to decide to come down to Kentucky to see her. Arriving in Mayfield a short while ago, he stopped at the hotel, and the next morning went into the dining room where he thought he would recognize her from the picture.

But no one like the picture entered, and Belden sauntered out on the street to see whether luck would favor him with a chance meeting. Before he had walked far, he saw a woman who, he was sure was the one, and he accosted her with a glad feeling that his quest was at last happily ended. She admitted that the picture resembled her, but denied the identity. However, she said she knew whom he was seeking and offered to escort him to her home.

"I found her all right," said Belden, "but she had been married only four weeks to another man. Both of them received me warmly and they are fine people. Seeing that all was off for me in that town, I came over to Paducah and enlisted in the army. There I will have the books and facilities for equipping myself as a civil engineer, and when my three-year enlistment is out, I ought to be competent."

Belden does not recall the romance in any but a pleasant spirit and looks

HOME GROWN TOMATOES FOUND ON LOCAL MARKET.

The finest home grown tomatoes of the season were brought on market this morning by Frank Block, a truck gardener residing at Tenth and Terrell streets. The tomatoes had their cheeks colored, and most of the fruit was large and of a better class than the early tomatoes shipped in from the south. In a few weeks there will be plenty of tomatoes as the hot sun this week has caused the tomatoes to ripen.
